Training Module on Terminal Evaluations

Introduction

- Purpose of this module is to:
 - Discuss importance and utility of terminal evaluations
 - Characteristics of a good terminal evaluation
 - Exercise on pre-requisites for preparing a good terminal evaluation
 - What needs to be done during project preparation and implementation
 - When a project is prepared
 - When a project is implemented
 - What needs to be done during preparation and delivery of a terminal evaluation
 - When a terminal evaluation is planned
 - When a terminal evaluation is conducted
 - When a draft report is prepared

Importance and Utility of Terminal Evaluations

- Source of information on project
 - Results: Outputs, outcomes and progress to impact
 - Implementation, execution, and project cycle related information
 - Project finances including co-financing
 - Recommendations and Lessons for the future
- GEF M&E Policy (2010): Minimum Requirement 3
 - Terminal evaluations mandatory since 1995

Importance and Utility of Terminal Evaluations contd.

- Reporting at the project portfolio level (APR, AMR)
- Input to other evaluations
- STAR's performance index
- About 1000 terminal evaluations completed so far.
- Terminal evaluation may be accessed at:

 - Sustainability
 - Lessons and recommendations
 - Project finances
 - M&E
- Other characteristics of good terminal evaluations:
 - Transparency and timeliness
 - Candor
 - Balance
 - Utility
- Question – is good terminal evaluation and good project performance the same?
- Terminal Evaluation Guidelines are available at:
<http://www.thegef.org/gef/Guidelines%20Terminal%20Evaluations>

Exercise: Pre-requisites for preparing a good terminal evaluation

- You will be asked to think about what needs to be done to facilitate preparation of a good terminal evaluation:
 - At project preparation and implementation
 - At different stages of terminal evaluation preparation
- Each group will discuss the requirements at each of these steps and will record their joint responses as bullets in the response sheet provided to them.
- After all stages have been discussed by the groups, one of the groups will present its response for a stage, others may add if their group had an additional bullets not yet covered. Each stage will be presented by a different group.
- We will end with a summary that pulls the discussion together

First Discussion:

What needs to be done during project preparation and implementation?

1 A. What needs to be done during the project preparation stage?

- Development of M&E plan
- Tracking tools

1 B. What needs to be done during the project implementation?

- Implementation of M&E plan
- Gathering of data on tracking tools

Second Discussion:

What needs to be done during preparation and delivery of a terminal evaluation?

Consider a situation where a project is about to be complete within one year. What needs to be done at different stages of terminal evaluation preparation to ensure that it leads to a good quality evaluation:

- 2 A. Commissioning of the terminal evaluation
- 2 B. Conduct of the terminal evaluation
- 2 C. Finalization of the terminal evaluation

Short Presentations by Stages

- Presentation on group discussion
- Summary
